HAVERHILL — When the people of 2041 Haverhill open a time capsule, they will find a brick from the old Woolworth building and a Hillie T-shirt.

Those are among the items the Team Haverhill civic group decided to put inside the capsule, which will be left at the downtown Harbor Place project soon and be opened 25 years from now.

At a ceremony Wednesday at the Pentucket Bank community room, Team Haverhill announced the time capsule will contain the Woolworth brick symbolic of the old building that was demolished to make way for Harbor Place. They said the capsule will also contain a Haverhill High sports T-shirt, a Free Brady T-shirt symbolic of the Patriots Deflate-gate scandal, and letters written by local students.

The capsule will also contain a copy of Wednesday's Eagle-Tribune, which has a front-page story about the capsule with the headline "Greetings, citizens of Haverhill 2041."

A complete report on the capsule's contents, including a story and photos, will appear in Thursday's Eagle-Tribune.
