

WICKED LOCAL BROOKLINE

WITH NEWS FROM THE BROOKLINE TAB

The St. Aidan Dedication Ceremony (Photos by Keith Jacobson)
June 7, 2010

Congressman Barney Frank and Cardinal Sean P. O'Malley joined residents, friends, town, state and federal officials to celebrate completed construction of The St. Aidan, a residential development that features 59 units of mixed-income housing in the Town of Brookline. The site is on the former home of St. Aidan Catholic Church.

The dedication ceremony was on Thursday, June 3.

WICKED LOCAL BROOKLINE

WITH NEWS FROM THE BROOKLINE TAB

The St. Aidan Dedication Ceremony (Photos by Keith Jacobson)

June 7, 2010

Congressman Barney Frank and Betsy DeWitt, Chair of the Board of Selectmen attend ceremonies to celebrate the completion of The St. Aidan, 59 new mixed-income housing units, at the intersection of Pleasant and Freeman Streets, site of the former church. The dedication ceremony was on Thursday, June 3. They along with other guest speakers were presented with framed stained glass from the former church.

Students from the St. Mary's School choir sing at ceremonies held to celebrate the completion of The St. Aidan.

Mary Logue, a Watertown resident, was the housekeeper at St. Aidan's Church in Brookline for over 17 years. She is sharing photos from her years at the church with Cardinal Sean P. O'Malley at ceremonies to celebrate the completion of The St. Aidan.